

Greetings from the Northwest Classroom

2010

Hello everyone! We can't believe that this is the last official newsletter for the School Year. Do you realize that we only have 2-1/2 more weeks of school? This has been an amazing year. It is always a bittersweet time for us. We feel very privileged to have spent the time with your children and you. Your continued support and involvement has made the children's learning and environment truly "rich".

We however still have a few more adventures before the school year is over!

Units of Study

Continent: South America

Botany: Flowers

Zoology: Reptiles

Composer: Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart

Artist: Frida Kahlo

We are also going to take an 'unplanned' side trip and learn a little about "Wet Land" habitats, animals, and plants. Now that the construction has slowed down on the Swamp Angel project, the children have a lot of questions and some concerns, i.e., where are the other trees?... If this is an area of study that anyone would like to contribute to, please let us know.

This is the NW classroom signing off for now. May your summer be filled with a lot of family time, play, and as always, adventures! Be safe and take care.

Paz Pace Peace,
Marina, Jennifer, Gina and Jen
